

FREE SMALL BUSINESS LEGAL HELP

Option #1 Free Legal Clinic

The Texas A&M School of Law Legal Clinic offers Texas businesses, nonprofits, and emerging entrepreneurs with limited financial means, the opportunity to obtain free legal assistance by working with law students who are supervised by experienced lawyers. Students work with clients to review, negotiate, and draft contracts, form new business and nonprofit entities, and offer other miscellaneous business law advice. Services do not include tax advice, business litigation, assistance to foreign entities, or venture capital transactions.

The free legal clinic is available to those with limited financial resources -- meaning annual gross income from all sources amounting to less than 300 percent of the federal poverty level. This means that an individual who is a member of a 4-person household can earn up to $90,000 and still receive free legal assistance. Community leaders who earn more and are forming a non-profit without substantial financial backing may also be eligible for our services. Although our legal services are provided at no charge, clients are still responsible for certain filing fees and other costs that may be necessary, such as fees payable to the Secretary of State when forming an LLC.

Option #2 Free Legal Conference Call

Every second Tuesday of each month, join corporate attorney Tisha Dodge for an interactive, open-forum style conference call where you can learn how to determine the best legal structure for your business, ask questions and get answers as a participant discussing the legalities of businesses in Dallas County and the State of Texas. Registration is required to take part in the conference call.
