

How to Do Business with the Federal Government

FOLLOW THESE THREE EASY STEPS TO GET ON YOUR WAY TO TAPPING INTO THE MULTIBILLION DOLLAR GOVERNMENT CONTRACTING MARKET

1 Identify your NAICS codes and size standards for your industry.

- NAICS codes are used by the government to classify business establishments according to their primary business activities for administrative, contracting, and tax purposes.
- A size standard is usually stated in number of employees or average annual receipts and represents the largest size that a business (including its subsidiaries and affiliates) may be to remain classified as a small business for SBA and federal contracting programs. SBA Size Standards use NAICS as their basis.
- Learn more about NAICS at census.gov/eos/www/naics and SBA's Size Standards at sba.gov/size-standards.

2 Register in SAM and create a winning SAM profile.

- To sell your products and services to the federal government, your business must be registered in the System for Award Management (SAM). Registering with SAM is sometimes referred to as “self-certifying” your small business.
- Think of your profile as your business resume. It should help you stand out from other vendors and emphasize the benefits of working with your company. Your SAM profile must be updated at least once every 12 months to remain active.
- Register for SAM at sam.gov.

3 Obtain a free DUNS number.

- Before you can bid on government contracts, you must obtain a Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number for each physical location of your business.
- You can request your DUNS number at fedgov.dnb.com/webform.

Government Contracting

Is it for you?

Government contracting can be a valuable tool to grow your small business, but it isn't for everyone. Complete the following readiness assessment to help you decide whether your company can successfully compete for government contracts.

1 Does the government buy the product or service that you sell?

- ✓ Continue to question 2.
- ✗ Government contracting may not be right for you at this time.
- ? Start with your local SBA District Office. If you can't identify at least three federal agencies that might buy what you sell, contracting might not be right for you.

2 Are you capable of fulfilling a government contract (e.g. time, staffing, and materials?)

- ✓ Continue to question 3.
- ? Your local SBA District Office can help you gauge ramp-up time and other factors that contribute to government contracting success.

3 Confirm your answer to all of the following:

- Is the majority owner(s) a U.S. citizen?
 - Does your company have a place of business in the U.S.?
 - Is your business organized for-profit?
 - Does your business generate revenue?
- ✓ Continue to Question 4.
 - ✗ These are requirements for securing government contracts.

4 Do you have cash on hand to purchase working inventory, if needed?

- ✓ Continue to question 5.
- ✗ Talk to a SBA Lender about getting a line of credit or a loan to do business with the government.

5 Do you have an accounting system that produces financial statements, such as profit and loss statements, balance sheets, and cash flow projections?

- ✓ Continue to question 6.
- ✗ Before you get into government contracting, make sure your accounting system is compatible with the government's requirements.

6 Are you credit worthy?

- ✓ Continue to question 7.
- ✗ Visit a SBA Resource Partner for tips on repairing your credit.
- ? Talk to a SBA Lender about how to build credit.

7 Do you already have federal/state/local government contracting experience?

- ✓ Continue to question 8.
- ✗ If you don't have government contracting experience, you won't reap the full benefit of opportunities like the 8(a) Business Development Program. You can only participate in this program once every 9 years, so make sure it's the right time for you.

8 Do you know where to find contracting opportunities?

- ✓ Continue to question 9.
- ✗ Ask a SBA Business Opportunity Specialist for help.

9 Do you have the following?

- A DUNS number?
 - The NAICS codes and size standards for your industry?
 - SAM registration?
- ✓ Continue below.
 - ✗ These are requirements for securing government contracts.

It sounds like you may be a good fit for government contracting!
